VALUE STATEMENT

Artistic and practical, with 35+ years in a wide range of circumstances and communities employing creative, flexible and collaborative skills to bring a vision to fruition.

An excellent communicator, successful grant writer, good listener and effective problem solver with a passion for the arts and community.

My personal mission is to connect the performing arts, mental health and community across a broad spectrum. Now more than ever, people cry out for support in coping with uncertainty, loss, depression, and healthcare organizations are tasked with addressing the mental health crisis.

I am committed to that mission.
